Objective	The Manchester College is keen to develop its justice sector services, with the strategic objective of becoming the UK leader and innovator in offender learning, skills and employability. Interests	TMC is interested in all types of funded interventions for offenders and ex-offenders related to skills and employability. The college currently works with male and female offenders, as well as adult and young offenders, and would therefore be interested in any funding which would allow us to develop our provision for these groups.
