We do this through a range of specialist, local employment services and through direct employment within our own commercial enterprises. Pluss operates throughout South West England and West Yorkshire, with partner Social Enterprises across the UK. Plus passionately believe that our services should always include those furthest from the labour market and offer specialist employment support to people with a learning disability, mental health issues, physical disabilities and long term health conditions. We also know that people with disabilities make excellent employees and are committed to directly employing them. To raise aspirations and make a positive contribution to the lives of young people, in particular those from disadvantaged backgrounds, NEET and BME groups, and provide the knowledge and skills that will help aid their transitional period from adolescence to adulthood, giving them a better place in society and help build community cohesion. Acknowledging Youth will do this by offering social, music and educational projects for 0 - 24 year olds, who want to take part in positive activities or gain support that will help develop and improve their physical, mental, emotional, social and educational wellbeing.	To network and build consortia and sustainable partnerships with other organisations who have experience of working with offenders. To extend our experience and proven expertise further to support people within the Criminal justice system. To share information with other organisations. To promote the presumption of employability for people with a learning disability, mental health condition and Aspergers spectrum conditions. As a member of NAVCA, (the national network of what used to be known as CVS) we have two main areas of work: providing capacity building and support services to voluntary and community groups including training, volunteering brokerage, governance and income generation support; and enabling them to have a voice within local policy and strategy development through acting as an advocate for the VCS and through supporting structures that ensure accountable representation and engagement of the VCS in public sector commissioning.	To get a better understanding of how to complete the paperwork required by MOJ and articulate the plans that we have locally into the complicated online questionnaires and other documents that are part of the tender process. Also, I want to clarify whether or not we need to apply for lot 3 and lot 5 for work in Gloucestershire, which is in the south west, or whether we need to choose just one lot and, if so, which one.	Supporting the VCS to bid for, and win, public service contracts. Support and leading VCS consortia. We have previously led a consortium of VCOs delivering services to reduce reoffending and so have a particular interest in this area of work	GAVCA has led several consortia projects in the past: we were the lead agency for our local infrastructure consortium under the Government's ChangeUp Programme and are currently the lead for the Transforming Local Infrastructure Programme. We are also leading a Big Lottery BASIS project. Finally, we have also led a multi-sector consortium to deliver various projects to increase VCS engagement in the Integrated Offender Management, funded by the Home Office and supported by CLINKS. The organisations social drive is to support those groups or individuals with enterprise skills who would not traditionally see self-employment, or developing a social enterprise, as a career option. BES currently delivers self employment provision in 12 prisons and through the community across the Midlands. BES also works on the formation and development of social enterprise including historical and existing experiences of supporting organisations to work in partnership or consortia arrangements.	We are looking at 2 approaches: 1. To work with organisations on the development of regional consortia approaches for delivery of a holistic social enterprise offer. 2. To work in with new or existing consortia for the delivery of enterprise development and self-employment options locally, regionally or nationally	Enterprise support, including self-employment, and continued support for social enterprises who wish to work through the criminal justice system, public sector and the wider commercial private sector.	BES has developed consortia partnerships and been a delivery member of various consortia models for over 15 years. We currently deliver contracts within partnerships and through consortia, locally, regionally and nationally. BES has, in the past, been sub-contracted by the LSC to research and develop consortia working within the Welfare to Work agenda in a number of regions across the UK.	High	Yes

We offer work experience, apprenticeships and employment within our social enterprise businesses, ranging from painting and decorating to gardening, window cleaning and property refurbishment. Our clients are referred to Aspire from numerous services across the city, including Avon and Somerset Probation Service, homeless hostels and Jobcentre Plus. At the end of their work placement, 88% of clients report an increase in confidence and over the last two years 43% of employees have moved into permanent work in numerous prisons in the North East and have done so for over 14 years. We also run an ex-offender mentoring programme with members of the faith community. We run a creative business in one of the prisons and have trained officers to run a business in another. We plan to develop businesses in the community for ex-offenders. The first of which is going to be a catering.	We are constantly developing existing and considering building partnerships to increase the effectiveness and scope of our work. We wish to assess the appropriateness of Aspire using this opportunity to develop our work with ex-offenders.	Offenders/ ex-offenders, Mentoring, Work, Faith		High	No

This is reflected in our mission statement: "to provide learners with a high quality experience, celebrated through vocational and academic achievement, personal development and employability.+In August 2001 Cornwall College (in Camborne) merged with St Austell College, creating cross county coverage focusing on a wide range of vocational subjects and A-levels making us a major player on the national scene. Saltash College, Duchy College and Falmouth Marine School, smaller but more specialised colleges, also became part of the Cornwall College Group at the same time. " Established in 1929 Elizabeth Fry Approved Premises (EFAP) is a charity formally established by a private Act of Parliament in 1925. It provides accommodation for women offenders that has been approved by the Secretary of State and which operates under the Offender Management Act 2007 (Approved Premises) Regulations 2008. In 1962 it moved to Reading where Elizabeth Fry's work continues. Today, the approved premises provides a stable, caring environment for 21 women offenders, who have been assessed as presenting a medium to high risk of re-offending, with the aim of helping to protect the public and reduce reoffending. EFAP is a national resource although the majority of women come from the South of England. We have a wealth of experience in bringing partners together and in particular programme management (ESF, Big Lottery and EMDA). SEEM have previously developed in collaboration with NOMS the 'Opportunity Portal' which SEs have used to raise their profile re: new business opportunities. SEEM have been strategically involved in the support of NOMS by co-developing and Since its incorporation, Bikeworks has been developing a model for delivering cycling services to the local community. The community cycling hubsq a facility open to the general public to access a variety of cycling services on site from cycle training to bike recycling, maintenance courses and volunteering opportunities. With training bikes available to use on site, individuals without a bike can still partake in cycling at Bikeworks and join group cycling activities. The hub also operates as a centre for dedicated cycling programmes working with homeless people, adults and children with learning and physical disabilities, youth groups, adults with mental and physical health conditions. Programmes are also delivered out in the community at schools. Vertegen provides work placements and employment-related training in the field of waste recycling. We offer vocational training (on site) as well as accredited and non-accredited employability training in order to best prepare beneficiaries for the active labour market. Vertegen currently operates from a 2 acre site in Bromborough, Wirral and we are looking into the development of a new site in Liverpool also.	Our objective is to identify the best ways of developing partnership/consortia to deliver contracts aimed at rehabilitation of ex-offenders through employment. Our objective is to support families of prisoners and to make their visit to the prison as stress free as possible. We provide information on visiting procedures, signpost visitors to external agencies and provide drop in centres where visitors can obtain information on areas such as debts, benefits, schooling etc. We provide activities for children and young people and work in partnership with the prisons in running such events as Family Days, where the prisoner meets up with his/ her family. Refreshments are provided in most	HALOW (Birmingham) would like to work collaboratively with similar organisations working in prisons in order to share good practice and form partnerships where appropriate. The enterprise will focus on giving ex-offenders (mostly young people) a chance to turn their lives around, through mentoring, training and employment opportunities. Nicola has a team of volunteer mentors, links with local businesses, rugby/football clubs and schools, and is finishing a qualification in NVQ assessment in youth work.	As a start up social enterprise, 2nd Chance Training needs the support and expertise of others, but can start with the team of volunteers pretty much straight away.	Young offenders coming out of prison, young ex-offenders, working in Yorkshire, exploring sub-contracting for delivery of contracts.	None (but should be given a 1st chance)	Low	No
John Drowley	Mediation at Work Ltd	PO Box 272 Bristol BS99 1RN	Director	0117 373 9192	07954 410236	johnof@mediationnetwork.co.uk	www.mediationnetwork.co.uk	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	Mediation at Work is a small, Bristol-based, company which provides workplace mediation, independent facilitation, training in handling interpersonal conflict and conflict coaching for teams and individuals.	To enable people at work to find mutually acceptable ways of resolving difficult situations through dialogue and collaboration.	Mediation at Work enables people at work to resolve their disagreements and disputes without resorting to formal grievance or complaint procedures. We enable people to have difficult conversations around attendance, performance, behaviour and other sensitive issues.	Little - however we regularly work in partnership with organisations who have commissioned us to assist, for example, in establishing an in-house workplace mediation team.	Low	No
